SHRI SHIKSHAYATAN COLLEGE

11, LORD SINHA ROAD

Kolkata- 700071

Shri Shikshayatan College, affiliated to the University of Calcutta was founded on 8th July, 1955. It was conceived by the founding father, Late Sitaram Seksaria as an extension of Mahatma Gandhi's nationwide constructive programme, embracing the emancipation and welfare of Indian women. Originally meant for imparting and promoting education among the girls of the Marwari community, it has over the years, opened its doors to all eligible girl students from different communities with a view to spread higher education among women in general and to promote multiculturalism. Over the last 65 years of journey, the Institution with all its components has striven to transform the vision of the founding fathers into a road map for academic excellence. The college is cruising ahead in its vision to impart and provide access to higher education to more and more girl students in an environment of egalitarianism and fairness. The vision is to mould the young minds to uphold social responsibility, good citizenry and empowered womanhood.

In tune with the ethos and the culture of the institution our students may be directed towards the following values that aid in-
