● Brief Description of the Event: Students of Semester IV participated in a Academic Linkage Programme at Loreto College, where they attended regular classes and class presentations. They also actively joined and participated in various co-curricular activities such as meditation and yoga sessions organized by the Health and Wellness Club of Loreto College. Additionally, they took part in class assemblies and a debate on the topic "Should special children be part of general schools?"

Moreover, the students participated in a bookmark-making competition organized by the Nature Club, as well as a cultural programme on the special occasion of Bengali New Year. During the celebration, the students of Shri Shikshayatan College joined in the prayer service and games.

On the final day, the students of Shri Shikshayatan College presented a token of gratitude to the B.Ed. Department of Loreto College, which included a handmade card, a box of cookies, a flower plant, and a box of chocolates. In return, they received bookmarks, chocolates, and a card.

● Outcome: The Academic Linkage Programme was an enriching and transformative experience. It improved their communication, collaboration, and academic confidence. Participation in activities like debate, creative competition and cultural events enhanced their creativity and interpersonal skills. Meditation and yoga sessions promoted self-awareness and mental well-being. Overall, it fostered adaptability, inclusivity, and mutual respect.
