- Resource Person: Dr. Rinita Mazumdar, Faculty, Central New Mexico Community College, Affiliate Prof. Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies, University of New Mexico
- Brief Description of the Event: The Special Lecture on “The History of Feminist Thought, its Evolution, and its Contemporary Crises” by Dr. Rinita Mazumdar traced the historical development of Feminist Thought, introducing students to key feminist theorists, major intellectual traditions, diverse feminist methodologies and challenges confronting feminist scholarship in the contemporary world. By engaging with foundational debates as well as emerging concerns, the lecture encouraged participants to appreciate feminist theory as a dynamic and evolving mode of critical inquiry. Students of History, Sociology, and Philosophy created wall posters, murals based on the Lecture topic, which added more value to the event.
- Outcome: The session proved to be intellectually enriching, fostering lively discussions, and equipping students with valuable conceptual and methodological insights. It significantly enhanced their understanding of feminist scholarship along with contributing to the broader culture of interdisciplinary research.
